MONEY TIGHT WITH FOREIGN BANKS, EASY WITH CHINESE

Native Institutions Have Loaned Tls. 7,000,000 In Month

REASONS GIVEN

Up-Country Chaos Causes Merchants To Deposit Here

BY DAVID ARAKIE

Large borrowings on the part of the foreign banks here from the Chinese banks are now quite an important feature of the money market. It is estimated that during the past three to four weeks the foreign institutions drew on the Chinese banking corporations to the extent of some seven million taels. Money is reported to be tight with the European and Japanese banks in Shanghai but just a contrary state of affairs prevails with the Chinese lenders. There are abundant funds in the hands of the latter, and they have thus been able to accommodate their competitors pretty comfortably all throughout this year.

The situation is somewhat puzzling as far as the Chinese-managed banking institutions are concerned. A thorough study of the whole position prompts the conclusion that as a result of the disorganised state of the country, which has militated against the accumulating of merchandise in the consuming centers in the interior a plethora of cash has been diverted to the Chinese banks, the merchants and dealers determining that this is the safest method of protecting their idle money.

EASY CONDITIONS

There is, therefore, every possibility of such easy conditions being enjoyed by the native banks at least as long as upcountry towns are not considered safe for trading and for storing cargo. The native banks have been reaping handsome profits by loaning their funds out to the Western banks at very good rates of interest. The latter have been paying as much as nine percent and are at present still continuing to offer this rate for one to two months accommodation.

An indication of the tightness of money with foreign banks is best found in the difference between cash and forward sterling. Two weeks ago forward rate was quoted 1-16 down each month. Today there are sellers of sterling at 3s. 1 5-8d. for June, while there are buyers at 3s. 1⅝d. for August, which is a difference of a farthing for two months, or ⅛d. per month. The banks prefer now to sell for near months as they are in need of funds, and to buy forward. There is likely to be witnessed considerable stringency in the market before the June settlement.

Native interest is a good straw for showing which way the monetary wind is blowing. It is a very good barometer of the conditions in the Chinese money market. Native interest is nearly Tls. 6 per mill or 7.2 percent. These conditions might undergo rapid changes if the call for funds from the foreign quarter become too persistent to cause the rates to harden as a result.

CROP MOVEMENTS

This is the time of the year when movements of the new silk and tea crops are pretty brisk, and the loans contracted for by the banks are to finance these crops. The effect of these special conditions will, no doubt, wear out in the course of the next month, when money despatched previously to the silk and tea districts will begin to come back more copiously. The movement of crops always calls for a heavy demand for money, and the phenomenon witnessed at present is nothing abnormal. To these external and internal factors must be added a third one, which is of a local character. It has reference to the Dragon Festival,

POLICE REPORTS

Some Pay For "Safe Conduct" To Native Places

The operations of brigand agents in Shanghai, mulcting Chinese merchants of thousands of dollars for protection for the safe conduct of their merchandise and representatives through bandit infested territory, are described by the Commissioner of Police in his monthly report, printed in today's Municipal Gazette.

Speaking of the results of investigations here the Commissioner states:

An incident which occurred here during March wherein three officers from Chekiang made an unsuccessful attempt to arrest a Chinese who was wanted on charges of robbery and which was the subject of prolonged investigation, has revealed that the man sought was negotiating at the time, in his capacity of robber chief, with certain merchants for payment of several thousand dollars for immunity from molestation from brigands in the transportation of merchandise through regions in the province from which they came.

On another occasion a robber leader fell into the hands of the police who had in his possession a sum of money obtained from a Shanghai resident as the price of a safe conduct to his native place through bandit-infested territory and a study of police reports will show that from time to time there have been in our midst persons posing as political refugees who paid sums amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, remitted to them from the provinces by their robber subordinates, to the head of a political faction for recognition and appointment to a command in a "Law Preservation" or "Salvation of the Country" Army which they themselves were entrusted to raise by assisting armed robbers and disbanded soldiers to combine until they became sufficiently strong to resist the repressive measure adopted by the authorities of the province in which it was intended to operate.

During the past five years over 300 persons of this class have been arrested on charges of armed robbery by that section of the C. I. D. which is detailed to deal with crime of this description. Over a hundred have been executed and the remainder sentenced to terms of imprisonment, but as these individuals belong almost exclusively to the smaller fry, their places can be easily and quickly filled as long as the leaders, secure in their wealth, remain undisturbed and unpunished.

Aero To Transport Voters To Polls

(Reuter's Service)

Toronto, May 16.—An airplane will carry voters to the polls in the Ontario general election on June 25. Because of the impassable condition of roads in the northern districts, the provincial government has engaged an aviator to serve as an aerial hackman at Moose Factory, the small trading post where American naval balloonists narrowly escaped death in their runaway flight of January, 1921.

CHIHLI WARLORD TO ACT AS DE FACTO EXECUTIVE; TO FORM NEW CABINET

Fugitive Leader Left Capital Following Threat Of Militarists To Bring Troops Into City To Compel Him To Go; Recent Series Of Disorders Inspired By Politicians With Object Of Placing Tsao In Chair; House Decides To Prolong Session Until October 10

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Peking, June 13.—President Li Yuan-hung left Peking for Tientsin at 1.25 o'clock. Tsao Kun will come to Peking to assume the office as president de facto. Parliament will meet to discuss the formation of a new cabinet.

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Tientsin, June 13.—President Li Yuan-hung's train has been held up at the East Station for several hours. The local authorities are not permitting him at present to enter the concessions. It is thought that the Chihli Party is endeavoring to persuade him to return to Peking but it is also said that he has not surrendered his seals of office.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 12.—General Feng Yu-hsiang and General Wang Huai-ching resigned this afternoon, giving their reason as the non-payment of their troops.

The President sent delegates to ask them to reconsider the matter but up to the present they persist, thus further embarrassing President Li.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 13.—President Li Yuan-hung left for Tientsin at 1.30 this afternoon owing to threats that troops would be brought in to the capital unless he vacated office.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 13.—In spite of the resignations of General Feng Yu-hsiang and General Wang Huai-ching yesterday, the President still attempted to remain at his post.

A meeting was held this morning at which several prominent personages discussed the formation of a Cabinet.

It is understood that about 12.30 a message came saying that unless President Li Yuan-hung left office troops would be brought into the city to compel him to go. The President then decided to leave for his home in Tientsin.

Shortly after one o'clock six motorcars were observed in Morrison Street going like the wind towards the Legation Quarter, President Li sitting bolt upright and calm in one of the middle cars. He proceeded to the station and took a special train to Tientsin at 1.30 this afternoon.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 13.—It is expected that General Feng Yu-hsiang will come to Peking very shortly to consult with General Wang Huai-ching with regard to the preservation of order but little fear of disorders is felt as it is recognised that the recent slight disturbances were politically inspired with the object of compelling President Li Yuan-hung to quit. It is considered very likely that General Chang Shou-tseng will return to the Premiership.

It is understood that President Li Yuan-hung sent a note of resignation to Parliament before leaving.

The House of Representatives today decided to prolong the session till October 10.

ROBBERS FORCE CHINESE OUTSIDE CITY TO ORGANISE

Unemployed Workmen Turn Criminals, Play Havoc

The prevalence of piracy and robbery in Chinese territory in the neighborhood of Shanghai during May is described by the Commissioner of Police in his monthly report, published today.

During the month there were 28 cases reported, involving the death of four persons, the destruction of 140 houses by fire and the kidnapping of members of the crews of five boats.

The frequency with which robberies have been committed recently in that part of Ying Hsiang Kong village situated outside the Settlement limits formed the subject of the following petition from the headmen of the district, sent to the City Magistrate:

"Our district borders on the Settlement and is a place where factories and mills stand like forests. The existence of these establishments has attracted many people who are not natives of Shanghai. Recently the work of the cotton and flour mills has been reduced. In consequence a number of the laborers have been thrown out of employment, and owing to the dearness of food and other necessities they have turned criminals. Robberies in the district have frequently occurred and scarcely one-tenth of the cases have been successfully investigated.

"For this reason the victims mostly refrain from reporting these occurrences to the authorities. Moreover, the robbers find the wheat fields a good place for hiding. During the month eight cases of robbery have occurred. There were several instances where the occupants were beaten and tortured by the application of burning paper to their nostrils and other parts of their bodies. Should no steps be taken to check the robberies the situation will become worse.

"We have had a long discussion and have decided to adopt a system of protection which prevailed in olden times, viz., mutual assistance to be rendered to one another. The tipaos and headmen will arrange with the farmers in the different villages to pick out one or two strong men from each house and organise a corps which will patrol the district from 7 p.m. until daybreak in order to assist the policemen and soldiers."

The Commissioner remarks that a similar state of affairs is reported to prevail in the region around Woosung where the village elders held a meeting on May 18 and decided to raise a body of men for the purpose of protecting their homes.

Harding Favors Aero Carriers

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 13.—It is officially announced that, as a result of President Harding's recent trip on board the only naval aeroplane carrier, the President strongly believes that the United States should convert some battleships into aeroplane carriers. Therefore, the course will probably be recommended at the next session of Congress.

HARDING TO ASK CONGRESS TO PASS DRY MEASURE

Wants Change In Law Affecting Foreign Ships

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 12.—President Harding's spokesmen assert that the President intends to ask Congress at the next session to modify prohibition as it affects foreign ships in American waters.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 13.—The Customs authorities have been instructed to release a strictly limited daily quantity of liquor as "medicine" to the crews of vessels which sailed before June 10.

(Reuter's Service)

Victoria, Vancouver Island, June 13.—The steamer, Africa Maru, the first Japanese vessel arriving since the enforcement of the prohibition decision, deposited its liquor here before proceeding to Seattle. The Africa Maru will pick up the liquor again on its return voyage.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 13.—It is understood that the Government will be willing to permit foreign vessels to bring sealed supplies of liquor to American ports provided an international agreement is reached extending the limit in which search and seizure will be legitimate from three to twelve miles. It is understood that the subject has already been broached with several European Chancelleries.

Council Appoints Body To Investigate Child Labor Problem

A committee to inquire into the conditions of child labor in Shanghai and the vicinity has been appointed by the Shanghai Municipal Council, according to announcement in today's Municipal Gazette.

The commission is empowered to make recommendations to the Council as to what regulations, if any, should be applied to child labor in the foreign Settlement of Shanghai, having regard to practical considerations and to local conditions generally.

The membership of the committee is as follows:

Messrs. J. S. S. Cooper, E. J. Cornfoot, R. J. McNicol, H. Y. Moh, G. Okada, H. Lipson Ward, Miss D. MacGillivray, Miss Agatha Marrison, Miss Mayling Soong, Dr. Mary Stone.

CHURCH'S DRIVE FOR FUNDS ENDS THIS EVENING

Team Members To Canvass Town In Final Day Of Campaign

The average per capita giving for the Community Church building fund is Tls. 154. There are still more than two hundred individuals to be accounted for.

The amount reported at the tiffin yesterday noon, at which nearly all team members were present, was Tls. 4,000 in addition to previous subscriptions.

Today the one hundred team members will cover the whole community in a house to house canvass, when all individuals and all foreign firms will be visited.

The teams will bring in their final report at the dinner tonight at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Parisien. The church members who expect to attend are requested by the Campaign Committee to note the early dinner hour, 7 o'clock. The dinner is called for this early hour because it will take considerable time to get the reports from the teams and make the final tabulation.

At the tiffin yesterday a subscription of Tls. 300 was reported from the Ford Hire Service. This is one of the largest subscriptions received since the campaign opened on June 8.

In point of subscriptions received the teams stand as follows: Dr. Anne Walter Fearn, E. C. Peters, Ray Christy, Dr. J. H. Snope, Mrs. T. A. Lavers, Professor T. C. Stockton, E. H. Wilkins, Mrs. L. J. Birney, J. M. Yard.

MRS. ROWARTH HELD FOR TRIAL IN INDIAN CASE

Aged Woman Faces Charge Of Conspiracy Of Murder

Magistrate D. R. Cooke of the British Police Court yesterday afternoon committed Mrs. Judith Rowarth, 63 years old, for trial in the higher court on the charge of conspiring to murder Bakher Singh, Indian money-lender who was found hacked almost to death in a lonely spot off Ward Road where he declares the accused lured him on the night of May 4.

Bail was denied and it was ordered that Mrs. Rowarth be held in custody pending trial.

Application that the accused be released on $500 bail was made by Mr. C. Mancell Reece, who stated that his client's health had been impaired by her imprisonment. The application was opposed by Mr. Eardley Maitland, police prosecuter.

BAND PLAYS, WELCOMERS CHEER WILDLY AS MEN ARE BORNE TO MOTOR CARS

All Return In Good Health, But Tremendously Happy To Be Free Again; Negotiations For Getting Prisoners Out Almost Broke Down At Last Minute, Outlaws Yielding After Anderson And Others Had Walked Away From Parleys In Disgust

With a roar of cheering which did not die until a thousand-odd foreign throats were hoarse, a blare of martial music and the glare of dozens of hastily ignited flares, Shanghai last night received her six sons, reclaimed from the grip of the Shantung bandit horde.

Never, it is safe to say, in the history of the Settlement has there been such a reception. Long before the time the night express was due from Nanking the long station platform was thronged by the relatives and friends of the returning half dozen released men, and by foreign citizens who had no acquaintance with any of the six but who were on hand to join in the welcome. A number of foreign consular representatives, heads of foreign trade bodies and Chinese officials were among the crowd, including French Consul-General Wilden, Italian Consul-General de Rossi, Mr. J. Harold Dollar of the American Chamber of Commerce, Mr. [illegible] K. Chen, of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs, and others.

[illegible] the Cadet band started up a stirring military air and from the big crowd there burst forth a deafening chorus of yells and whistles which brought heads popping out of every window in the long line of coaches.

CROWD STORMS COACH

There was a mad rush for the rear coach in which the freed captives, accompanied by Mr. Carl Crow of the American relief mission, newspapermen and others from Tsaochuang, had travelled from Nanking to Shanghai. The six ex-captives wearing the nondescript costumes of the bandit camp and frescoed, for the most part with luxuriant growth of facial herbage, were pounded upon as they alighted by hysterical squadrons of waiting relatives and friends and were borne away in the swaying, tightly packed mob toward the gates, halted at every step by joyously shouting Shanghailanders who insisted on shaking hands.

All of the released prisoners were apparently in good health and obviously in high spirits. Commander Musso, supplied with a pair of crutches, was able to walk the distance from the coach to his awaiting motor car without evident fatigue and the others seemed none the worse for their gruelling experience.

Lee Solomon, with "Russky," the brigand guard he has adopted with the intention of making him a houseboy and thus guiding him into less flagrant lines of banditry, was a center of particular attraction by reason of his strange companion, who had his gun with him. Members of the Shanghai Rotary Club were out in strength to greet both Solomon and J. B. Powell, who are Rotarians.

"MOVIE" MEN THERE

As the struggling throng neared the platform gates the photographers, both "movie" men and "still" camera experts, touched off their flares and the crowd sagged to a halt, heaved the ex-captives onto eagerly offered shoulders, waved its collective hats and brought its overworked vocal apparatus again into play, while the echoes crashed and reverberated from every angle of the train shade.

Outside the gates were awaiting many who had been unable to get onto the platform and here again the greetings, handshakes and cheers were repeated. Eventually the reclaimed six were able to get through the concourse and into awaiting motor cars and so were whirled away to the homes they left five weeks ago to journey Northward on the illfated "Blue Express."

Negotiations Near Failure, But Saved At Last Minute

BY "LARRY" LEHRBAS

After spending 38 days in captivity among bandits in the mountains of Shantung in hourly peril of their lives and under terrible privations six foreigners—the last of the 28 foreigners who were captured in the sensational wrecking and raid of the Tsinpu Express on May 6 to be released—arrived in Shanghai at a few minutes past 10 o'clock last night and were greeted at the Shanghai North station by a large joy-mad crowd of relatives and friends.

The six—Mr. J. B. Powell, Commander G. D. Musso, Mr. L. C. Solomon, Mr Leon Friedman, Mr. Freddie Elias and Mr. Emile Gensburger—were the Shanghai captives included in the eight foreigners and three Chinese who were released Tuesday afternoon. Major Roland Pinger, U.S.A. and Mr. R. H. Rowlatt of Tientsin, went from Tsaochuang to Tientsin, where they were also greeted last night by relatives and friends.

The freed Shanghai captives arrived on the regular Shanghai-Nanking night express after traveling as far as Pukow on a special train provided for them by the Tientsin-Pukow railway. Mr. Carl Crow and Mr. Robert McCann, who handled the relief work for the American Chamber of Commerce and American Red Cross; Mr. J. Bendorf of Pathe, Capt. Ariel Varges of International, and newspapermen who have been on the scene also returned on the special. Mr. Roy Anderson and Major Wallace C. Philoon, the Assistant American Military Attache went North with the two Tientsin-bound captives and the American, British, French and Italian Consular representatives remained in Tsaochuang.

SPECTACULAR RELEASE

The release of the captives that ended the last chapter in one of the most sensational outrages ever committed against foreigners in China was as dramatic as the train wreck and raid over a month ago. Mr. Roy Anderson, the chief negotiator for the release of the captives, accompanied by Mr. Wen Shih-tsen, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs at Nanking; General Chen, of Hsuchowfu, the chief negotiator for the Chinese Government; and General Wu, Commander of the Twentieth Brigade, which has had the bandit fortress at Paotzuku surrounded, went to the chief's village, about three li from the Temple in the Clouds, where the captives were held, on Monday morning to conclude the negotiations.

The meeting was the climax of the numerous meetings Mr. Anderson, Mr. Wen and General Chen have held with the Paotzuku outlaws during the past month. As previous meetings they had arranged for the release of the other captives who were still held after the bandits had arrived in their native mountains, and they went determined to bring out all the remaining captives on Tuesday at the latest.

IRRECONCILABLES

From the beginning Mr. Anderson feared that at the last moment 'Pigtail' Chu and Bobo Liu, the two irreconcilable chiefs who have held out against the bandits entering the army and fought to continue holding the captives hostage, would start trouble at the last moment that might be extremely dangerous for the captives. When one batch of captives was released previously the stubborn bandits had vented their rage by firing on the party as they came down the mountain path in chairs and the relief members' worst fears were almost realised again on Tuesday.

Mr. Anderson argued all day with the chiefs on Monday and all terms were agreed on for the release of the captives and the enrollment of the bandits in the Chinese army. On Monday night Mr. Anderson, Commissioner Wen and General Chen returned as far as Wo Shan Kuo, the headquarters of the Twentieth Brigade, for the night, assured that they would be able to effect the release of the foreigners on Tuesday noon.

After they had left, however, discension once more broke out among the chiefs. Bobo Liu, one of the old time dyed-in-the-wool bandits, had no wish to enter the army and as he had only a dozen underlings at Paotzuku—about 500 of his men were cut off by the troops and unable to reach the bandit fortress—he became belligerent when he discovered that the bandits were going to accede to the government's terms. Under such an arrangement not only would his men be deprived of the opportunity of joining the army but his personal squeeze was cut down on the basis of the twelve men he actually had under him.

AGREEMENT BROKEN

As a result of Bobo Liu's attitude the council of chiefs broke up in a quarrel and Sun Mei-yao second in command of all the bandits, went to the captives camp on Monday night and informed them that unless they were given more money and more men, and unless Mr. Anderson remained as a hostage the captives would not be released despite their promises.

After discussing the new, disheartening situation the captives delegated Mr. J. B. Powell and Mr. L. C. Solomon to go down to the chief's village early the next morning and talk with Anderson before the chiefs had the opportunity. When they arrived at the chief's village the chiefs were just breaking up their final meeting in which they had definitely decided to keep the captives unless Mr. Anderson remained in carrying out of the terms.

At 1 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon Anderson, Wen, Chen and Wu arrived at the chief's village for the final conference and immediately ran into a hornet's nest of opposition. During the night coxen carts had brought the money for indemnity and back pay and the uniforms for the converted soldiers, however, and that, combined with the arguments of the four negotiators, finally brought all the chiefs with the exception of Bobo Liu and 'Pigtail' Chu to agreement.

For two hours they argued, plead, promised and threatened in the dobe house and courtyard with a conglomeration of bandits and soldiers an interested audience. The negotiators centered their argument on Sun Mei-yao, and his uncle, Sun Kwei-tsai, the old bandit leader, the most conciliatory of all the bandits and the most influential. When other chiefs appeared to be 'slipping' they were taken aside and 'soft-soaped' until they again became agreeable.

Sun Kwei-tsai was reminded of the honor that would acrue to him as a Brigadier-General in command of the new force. Sun Mei-yao was flattered about the Colonelcy that was coming to him. The lesser chiefs were reminded of the commissions and money that would come to them.

PACT SIGNED

All the chiefs with the exception of Bobo Liu were finally ready to sign and Mr. Anderson told Lee Solomon to return to the captives village as quickly as possible and bring them down to the chief's village so they could be taken out before the bandits had an opportunity of changing their minds. Solomon started out but was stopped by the bandit guards en route because he had no pass for the prisoners. He returned to the village and Mr. Anderson, after more argument, some of which became extremely warm as Bobo Liu saw his 'golden eggs', as he called them, slipping from his grasp, Mr. Anderson at last got them to sign a pass for all the foreign captives and three Chinese who had acted as interpreters for the foreigners, and Solomon left for the prison camp again with four horses and four chairs.

Arriving at the camp he ran up the steep incline and burst into the Temple all out of breath. He was barely able to tell his fellow prisoners that they were to be freed at last but made them understand by signs and gasps and within five minutes they were on horseback or in chairs and ready to go. In the excitement Solomon also managed to make his bandit guard 'Russky'—whom he has described in several stories in THE CHINA PRESS—understand that he could come along, and 'Russky', a bandit only because he had been captured and given a choice between becoming a bandit or a corpse, jumped at the opportunity.

THE START

Elias, Gensburger, Solomon and a bandit guard known as "The Frenchman" because he had served in the Labor Battalions in France and spoke French, started off on horseback, the others following in chairs. 'Russky' informed Solomon in a few minutes that the bandits were undecided about letting him go and so to insure his escape Solomon gave him the horse and he and Powell walked. 'Russky' immediately galloped off, not stopping until he arrived inside the troop lines. Then he dismounted and simply by a change in environment became Solomon's "boy," the occupation he will henceforth follow in Shanghai as a result of the kindness he showed Solomon while acting as his guard.

The other foreign captives had in the meantime reached safety within the trooplines although they were fearful at each step that Bobo Liu's men, in a last minute's attempt to secure revenge, would ambush them from the mountains through which their path wound.

At the same time the chief and negotiators were signing the final terms, granting the bandits 2,500 men in the army and $37,000 for back pay and compensation for property the troops fighting them had destroyed in return for the captives' freedom. At the last moment when it looked again as though the negotiations would break down because of the shortage of money Mr. Anderson personally guaranteed the bandits an additional $25,000.

ANDERSON'S PART

In addition it was Roy Anderson who signed the agreement guaranteeing that the Chinese Government would keep faith. The bandits would not accept the word or signature of any of the Chinese officials unless Anderson, too, put his chop on the agreements. It capped the climax of the wonderful work Anderson did in securing the release of the captives for he succeeded where consular representatives of the Powers and a large number of the highest military and civil officials in China failed.

Just before Powell, Musso and Solomon entered the first village controlled by the troops a bandit dashed up on horseback and insisted that the three Chinese captives return as the bandits had decided not to release them after all. Prof. Hung and Chang had already crossed into the troops lines and were safe, but Cheng Chi was still almost a mile inside the bandit lines. Solomon and Powell got a hold of Cheng and began running, dragging the Chinese along toward the lines, while Musso argued with the bandit. Commander Musso finally convinced the bandit that he should ask his chief in the village ahead what to do and by the time the bandit reached the village Cheng was also there and beoynd the bandits reach. The bandits wanted Cheng back because they had forgotten temporarily that he was one of their rich prizes for whom they had demanded $100,000 ransom.

Meanwhile at Tsaochuang the newspaper men and moving picture men had a tip that the captives were about to be released and started out to meet them. Phil Kerby and I led the procession on horseback and arrived at Wo Shan-kuo, the half way village, at noon. There we were stopped by the Colonel in Command of the Twentieth Brigade, and forced to wait until more information was received.

After waiting until 6 o'clock the cavalcade of returning captives and negotiators was first spied, and Victor Gensburger, who was there to greet his brother, galloped back with the news. I immediately rode on to meet them—about a mile beyond the village—and after learning that all had been released and were safe within the troops lines, galloped off for the telegraph office, 18 li away. Unfortunately the telegraph service from Tsao Chuang to Shanghai has been so clogged that only the short mes-

Captive Retarians Now Ask For New Classification

J. B. Powell and Lee Solomon, two of the captives released by Shantung bandits on Tuesday who arrived in Shanghai last night, will attend the regular Thursday noon meeting of the Rotary Club today, whiskers and all, to make their excuses for their absence from five meetings of the organization.

Both Powell and Solomon will wear the clothes they came out of the mountains in, plus a month's growth of mustaches, chin whiskers, goatees, and sideburns, and will ask that they be changed from their present membership classification to 'ex-captives'.

As an added attraction Solomon has promised to take Russky, the bandit guard he brought out to be a tame houseboy, as his "guest". Russky, like the other bandits, considered the foreigners their "guests" at Paotzuku.

HWAI HO LOAN REPORT DENIED BY COMMITTEE

Board Declares That It Is Not Interested In Any Form Of Politics

Emphatic denial has been made by heads of the Hwai Valley Conservancy Board of the report that appeared in the local press recently that a loan was being secured for the election of Tsao Kun for the next president under the pretext that it would be utilised for the Hwai Valley conservancy work.

"It is manifestly absurd that an international body like our committee should be charged with being the tool of the militarists to help them with funds for the presidential campaign of Tsao Kun," said a responsible head of the board yesterday when seen by a representative of THE CHINA PRESS.

To get down to hard facts, the interviewed referred the reporter to a resolution passed by the board at its meeting held on January 5 which reads:

"That it would not be advisable to contract a foreign loan to carry out the Hwai Conservancy scheme, for such a loan might create suspicion and be a stumbling block; regardless of whether the expenditure warrants a foreign loan or not."

Continuing, he said:

"I am sure you do not need any words of mine to put emphasis on the fact that we are in no way concerned in supporting Tsao Kun or anyone else for the presidency, or for any political position. All we are after is to put through the Hwai scheme as a famine prevention measure on behalf of the 15,000,000 people who suffer terribly every few years from floods and famine in Kiangpei and Wanpei.

"For a humanitarian work of this kind, there ought to be nothing but the strongest support from all who have the interest of this great land at heart. It might be of further interest to you, to have quoted, a resolution of our board meeting held on the 12th of September 1922 when we passed unanimously the following:

"In view of the Hwai Valley Conservancy scheme now commenced under the auspices of the Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Committee, Shanghai, we desire to place on record that our sole interest in this scheme is to prevent future famines and that neither this committee, or the Hwai Valley Conservancy Board or any member thereof shall directly or indirectly have any interest in the reclamation of land or any speculation or any claim on reclaimed land or any interest whatever in schemes pertaining to profit from this Hwai Valley Conservancy Work.'

When asked about the manner in which the financial matters of the boards are handled, the board's representative pointed to the following resolution for the reporter's information:

"Payment to be made by our treasurers on written authorisation of two members of the executive, one being Chinese and one foreign, countersigned by the general secretary. It is understood that our treasurers can vet any payment pending the decision of the executive."

This resolution was passed at the meeting of the board on September 12, 1922.

The treasurers of the board are Mr. Sung Han-chang, manager of the Bank of China and Mr. G. H. Stitt, manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

The board emphatically declares that it is not interested in politics in any shape or form and has but one desire—to save the lives of the people and better their conditions by the conservancy work that it is proposing to undertake on the Hwai River.

SOVIET, IN LAST NOTE TO BRITAIN, IS CONCILIATORY

Offers Compensation, Wants Investigation Of Propaganda Charges

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 12.—It is understood that the latest Russian Note is couched in a conciliatory tone. The Note expresses regret that Marquess Curzon is unable to meet M. Chitcherin, it agrees to the compensation of £10,000 and £3,000 proposed in the cases of Mr. Davison and Mrs. Stan Harding, though claiming reciprocity. The Note implies that, if genuine proof of misconduct can be adduced, the Soviet representatives in Kabul and Teheran will be recalled, but contends that a joint inquiry is necessary to examine for charges and countercharges in regard to propaganda. The Note accepts Marquess Curzon's new formula for a mutual undertaking to abstain from propaganda.

The Soviet Government is ready to accept the draft declaration of non-interference, suggested in the British Note, as a basis of mutual undertakings with regard to propaganda, but emphasises that this means that there can be no possibility in future of the British Government or the Governments of the British Dominions, Colonies or Protectorates assisting any hostile designs against the Soviet Republic and its Allies.

Tokio Merchants Protest Boycott

(Reuters Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 13.—The anti-Japanese boycott in China is the subject of representations to the Government by the Tokio Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the Sino-Japanese Business Association, in which the attention of the Government is drawn to the seriousness of the movement, which is calculated to create a damaging breach in the intercourse and friendship of the two countries. The Government is urged resolutely to protest against the present agitation.

Sharp Exchange Of Correspondence In Electricity Matter

The dismissal by the Municipal Council of the unofficial members of the Electricity Committee, reported several weeks ago, has brought about a sharp exchange of letters between the Shanghai Ratepayers' Association and the Municipal body, as shown in correspondence published in the Gazette today.

Commenting on the letter to the Ratepayers' Association from the Council on May 15 in reply to request for further information as to the compulsory retirement of the committeemen, the committee of the Association declares this reply to be unsatisfactory, leading to the implication that the Council is trying to go behind the backs of the ratepayers, in that the retiring members categorically assert that the differences of opinion with the Council have arisen because the committeemen considered themselves bound by the adopted Report of the Electricity Committee of 1915 and giving rise to the inference that the Council wishes to over-ride these rules.

The letter maintains in conclusion "that the ratepayers are entitled to a very full explanation as to why their representatives on the Council have considered it necessary to make this sudden change" and to express the hope that this full explanation might now be forthcoming.

In reply the Council states that it is directly responsible to the general body of ratepayers for the action taken and that it has nothing to add to its previous letter.

Then come the following excerpts from a letter sent to the Council by two of the retiring members of the committee, Mr. P. Peebles and Mr. S. B. Neill:

"No concessions were at any time asked for by the Committee, nor do we understand to what concessions the Council refers.

"The Council's reply is inaccurate and misleading."

Replying to this the Council states that the concessions referred to were in connection with the question of salaries.

ALLIED CAPITALS NOW DISCUSSING RUHR ARMISTICE

Berlin Decides Against Cessation Of Passive Resistance

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 12.—The Allies are in active conference through their diplomatic representatives on the subject of the German memorandum.

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Marquess Curzon, held conversations yesterday with the French, Italian and Belgian Ambassadors.

The prospect of agreement is represented in some quarters as not being bright owing to French intransigence. It is stated elsewhere, however, that the Ministers are not unhopeful of attaining ultimate agreement. The conversations will be continued with the object of arranging, if possible, a joint reply.

It is doubtful whether the British Government will agree to urge Berlin to end passive resistance in the Ruhr unless the Allies are able to hold out reasonable inducements. Something in the nature of an armistice in the Ruhr is being discussed in the Allied capitals.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, June 12.—The Chancellor, Her Cuno, in a speech today at Karlsruhe said that passive resistance must be continued.

Chinese Officials To Honor General G. da Costa Today

In honor of General Sir Gomes da Costa, leader of the Portuguese expeditionary Forces during the war, General Ho Feng-lin, Military Governor of Sungkiang and Shanghai and Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs at Shanghai, will give a reception at the Foreign Bureau this afternoon at [illegible] o'clock.

General da Costa reviewed the Shanghai Volunteer Corps at the Race Course yesterday shortly after 5 o'clock. There was a good turn-out. Last night he was the guest of a honor at a dinner given by Mr. Chun Bing-him, compradore of Burkill and Sons.

A feature of yesterday's parade, which was witnessed by a large crowd, was the awarding by General da Costa of the Council's Long Service medals to Lieut. F. A. R. Leitao, Lieut. M. F. R. Leitao, Sergt. M. P. Campos and L./Cpl. A. T. Silva, of the Portuguese Co.; Pte. A. M. Collaco, B. I. Reserves, and Corpl. V. L. Chen and Pte. L. D. Soong, of the Chinese Co.

YELLOW RIVER CONTROL WORK TO BE DESCRIBED

Mr. Paul P. Whitham Giving Illustrated Lecture Tomorrow

An illustrated lecture which should prove of unusual interest—dealing with the Yellow River control—will be given at 5.15 p.m. tomorrow in the Chinese Y.M.C.A. Hall, 120 Szechuen Road, by Mr. Paul Page Whitham, of the Asia Development Company.

The occasion is the meeting of the Association of Chinese and American Engineers and Mr. Whitham's subject is "New-Old China—Industrial Development." The talk will be illustrated with slides showing the development of factories and other engineering projects, including the Yellow River control work, recently completed.

The Asia Development Company is responsible for the completion of the dyke work, which has stood the test of the first sharp rise of water and thus saved a very large section of country from further suffering.

An account of this work and of industrial developments in China of similar nature should interest all who know of their importance. The lecture is open to the public.

YOUTHS IN COURT FOR FORGERY OF $93 CHIT AT CAFE

At the British Police Court yesterday, before Mr. D. R. Cooke, sitting as Magistrate, Howard Wilcock, age 17, and H. W. Williams, 18, appeared on two charges of forgery, namely, on June 7 at the Royal Cafe, 37 Brennan Road, with intent to defraud forged a document purporting to be an I. O. U. for $93.30. Mr. Eardley Maitland prosecuted on behalf of the Police.

Chen Yuih-ching, a partner in the Cafe Royal, 37 Brennan Road, said that the defendants came to the Cafe last Thursday. They were three in number—one of the foreigners he knew. Drinks were served, and they stayed until 4.30 in the morning. They did not pay any money. About midnight they went into the bar, produced a dollar and some cards. Later lemonade and whiskey and gingerale was drunk. When they left they owed $93.30.

Witness let them sign chits, although he told them he preferred cash. Wilcock said he had only $4 or $5 on him. After cards had been produced witness looked up the name of Enright in the hong list, and also the name of Noble. Wilcock produced the card with Mr. Enright's name on it, and Williams handed over Mr. Noble's card. Wilcock signed the chits in the presence of the other defendant. The shroff went to collect at 56 Avenue Road, but failed.

At the Inquiry Office of the Municipal Council, Electricity Department, he saw Mr. Enright and found at once that he was not the man who had visited the cafe. He did not see the defendants there. The money had not been paid.

Questioned by Williams, witness said the cards were handed in between 12 and 12.30 after a dollar had been paid for two drinks. The Cafe boy corroborated.

Mr. Arthur James Enright, of the Electricity Department, said he knew Mr. Horatio Noble of the same department. Witness knew the defendant and was introduced to them at the same boarding house in Carter Road Mr. Noble was with him. Cards were exchanged, when the introduction were made. Wilcock called him Harris, and Williams had a card with the name Fitzgerald. The chit was not signed by him.

Det. Inspector Reeves said the defendants were deserters from H. M. S. Hawkins. Edward Wilcock was missing since May 22, and Horace Wilfred Williams since May 28. Notice had been sent to the Police. The defendants had admitted at Hongkew Station that they were the deserters.

The two accused were sentenced to one day's imprisonment and the Magistrate in giving sentence said:

"You have been guilty of a particularly stupid and wicked act in a moment of wild irresponsibility. You laid yourself open to a very serious charge, which could have got you a long sentence of imprisonment. I am permitted to take a more lenient view of the case under the section, and I am entitled to take into consideration your respective ages and also that it is your first time to do a criminal act. Hence the application made by the Naval authorities. I am going to take a lenient view of your case, as far as this charge is concerned. I am going to do it as I wish to give you a chance to redeem the slip you have made and to enable you to become straightforward and good citizens of the community. I want you to pull yourselves together. In view of the fact that you have already been in custody for sometime I am going to sentence you to one day's imprisonment, which means you will be immediately released and handed over to the Naval authorities to be dealt with for any charges they may deem fit to bring against you."

Money Now Tight With Foreign Banks

which is a traditional settlement day. This has not had any appreciable effect on things, for the simple reason that trade has been very poor for several months past, and the settlement consequently robbed of all its terrors.

Credit with Chinese banks might be described as being superabundant now, and it seems likely that existing conditions will continue to prevail in the immediate future. With an improvement of trade there should come an increased demand for loans and advances by merchants, but the prospects of such trade revival do not appear too bright just at present. The magnitude of the deposits in the vaults of the Chinese banks are such as to prevent now a stringent situation in the money market generally, but with any improvement in the export and import trade a withdrawal of deposits would set in. That would certainly not make for easier money, but it does seem unlikely, judging from present indications, that the improvement will be on a scale sufficiently large to upset the even tenor of monetary conditions. On the whole, demands for fresh capital do not promise to be large enough to have serious effect on the rates.

Terrible Wound from Abdomen to Hip

Our portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 97, Brettall Lane, Stourbridge, England, who writes:

"For 8 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors' and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length I was persuaded to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed, and I now have no pain." In a further recent letter Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint and consider my case a very satisfactory cure."

A SMALL BOY'S IDEA OF A VOLCANO IS A MOUNTAIN WITH THE CORK OUT

Parbury Defeats Gore In Brilliant Tennis Match

In one of the best tennis matches ever seen in Shanghai Mr. L. Parbury, last year's singles champion here, defeated Mr. A. W. Gore, former world's champion, in a spectacular three set series on the courts of the Majestic hotel. A large and fashionable crowd saw the matches, which were characterised by fast and brilliant work on the part of both players. Mr. Gore showed that he still possessed much of the skill and speed that carried him to the topmost rank in 1901, 1908 and 1909, and only the fact that he was matched against a player of surpassing ability prevented him from winning. As it was he forced the younger Parbury to the utmost limit of his resources.

The tennis displayed by these two masters reached its greatest heights in the second set. In this period Gore was at his best, placing his shots with such deadly accuracy that Parbury was kept running all over the court, and so much occupied with defense that he had hardly a chance to get in offensive work of his own. The fact that he was not simply smothered by the brand of tennis that he was up against shows that Mr. Parbury is a player of great skill and stamina.

In the long run it was his stamina that enabled him to triumph, for despite his strenuous work in the second set he was able to come back strong enough to win the third and concluding set.

It was marvelous tennis that the two experts displayed. Mr. Parbury, especially, rose to heights that even his friends did not know he possessed, and all were unanimous in saying that he gave what undoubtably was one of the finest exhibitions of racquet wielding skill ever seen in the city. He was warmly congratulated for his effort.

The doubles match, with Messrs. Sheldon and Roberts playing the participants in the singles match, went to the former, largely due to the fact that Messrs. Parbury and Gore were so exhausted by their strenuous singles contest that it was about all they could do to carry on in the doubles, the strain telling particularly on Mr. Gore. In addition, Sheldon was on his game with a vengeance, and when that is the case it takes not only a fresh opponent but a good one to hold him level. Roberts was as steady as usual.

In one game Sheldon served with such speed that the ball knocked Parbury's racquet out of his hand, and in an other he hit the ball so viciously that the force of the serve knocked the racquet out of his own hand.

It would be interesting to see these players meet again when all are fresh. This might be a suggestion worthy of consideration by the Committee of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association, and would be a means to add further to their funds.

At the conclusion of the matches, the President of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association, Sir Skinner Turner, thanked the players on behalf of the Association's Committee, for consenting to take part in these matches, which were arranged for the purpoes of raising funds in order to improve the Tennis conditions of Shanghai and to enable the local tennis-loving public to witness the very best games possible. On behalf of the Tennis Association he presented, as a souvenir of the occasion, a silver cup to each of the four players.

Nanyang College Is Intercollegiate Baseball Champion

Nanyang college won the East China Intercollegiate baseball championship yesterday for the second successive year by defeating Nanking University at St. John's field. The score was 9 to 7. Pitcher Wen, of the victors, was relieved when the score stood at 7 to 6 against him, Wing taking up the burden. In the next inning, after one run had scored and two were on bases Ting singled to centerfield, scoring the tying and winning run. Wing held the Nanking boys hitless after he assumed the pitching burden.

SARAZEN FAILS TO QUALIFY FOR GOLF TITLE PLAY

American Champion Gets Into Storm And Finishes With 85

(Reuter's service)

Troon, June 12.—The sensation of the day in the qualifying round for the British Open Golf Championship was the collapse of Sarazen, who, with five other Americans, including Barnes and Hoffner, the South African champion, Jangle, the Frenchmen, Massey and Boomer, and the Britishers, Wethered and Vardon, exceeded 159 and thus failed to qualify. Sarazen played in a gale of wind and rain and was in trouble from the start. He took eight for the second and was bunkered frequently. He turned at 43 and finished in 85. Hagen in a great battle just succeeded with 159.

The best qualifiers were Whitcombe (Langdowne), Syd Wingate (Wearside), Tingey, Jr. (Frinton), all 146, and Robson (Cooden Beach), 147. Among the others were Braid 149, Mitchell and Kirkwood 152, Tolley 153, Duncan and Taylor 154.

The Americans to qualify were Macdonald Smith 152, Aulbach 155, Farrell 157, Clarke, Diegel and Hagen 159.

There will be 88 competitors in the competition proper on Thursday.

Gallopers Again Defeat Japanese

The Shanghai baseball team again defeated the Mitsubishi aggregation at the Race track yesterday, the score being 20 to 1. It was only a practice game, arranged to give the Shanghai team some final practice before the first big game with the Osaka players Saturday. Maloney and Scott did the pitching yesterday, holding the Japanese helpless throughout.

Manager Gallop and Captain Kingman now have the Shanghai team in first class shape for the big series starting Saturday and both are confident that the locals have a better than fair chance to win a majority of the games. Taylor is scheduled to work in three of the games and these are counted as already won. The team is working nicely together now and all are confident of taking the Japanese stars over the jumps.

Manager Gallop has increased the seating capacity by the erection of temporary stands and it is anticipated that the largest crowds ever seen at a baseball series in Shanghai will turn out for the games.

OBVIOUSLY MACHINE-MADE CIGARETTES
are more HYGIENIC and more CONSISTENTLY WELL MADE than those made by any other process.

In the manufacturing of "CAPSTAN" Cigarettes for instance;

POINT No. 1
Pure dust-free tobacco leaf is fed to Modern Machines in Model Factories and no soiled human hand comes into contact with the cigarette during the process of manufacture.

POINT No. 2
Machine-Made Cigarettes are uniformly well made. Each paper receives its proper quota of tobacco leaf and is rolled to the correct degree of "tightness". This Uniformity is impossible to attain under any other process.

Big Opium Seizure Is Made By Police In Central District

One of the biggest opium seizures in some time was made early yesterday morning by police of Central station when they raided a shop at 56 Honan Road. Some $18,000 worth of the drug was found in the place and thirteen Chinese were arrested. One of these is charged with running a place for the sale of opium and the others with aiding and abetting in the sale. The case comes up in the Mixed Court this morning.

Commons Debates Singapore Base

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 12.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. George Lambert, Liberal Member for South Molton, Mr. Bridgeman, the Home Secretary, speaking for Mr. Stanley Baldwin, said that in June, 1921, the Government of the day had decided that a naval base at Singapore should be developed to meet the needs of a modern fleet. This policy had been reaffirmed in February, 1923.

BULGARIA MAY HAVE CIVIL WAR; PEOPLE IN ARM'S

New Government Not Recognised And May Be Overthrown

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 12.—A rigorous censorship has been established in Bulgaria.

The situation is a complete mystery but it is expected that the Agrarians will make a strong stand, entailing possible civil war.

The Bulgarian Legation in London has received no confirmation of the Belgrade reports of fighting in Bulgaria, but the Sofia correspondents of Belgrade newspapers assert that peasant revolts against the new regime have been reported from all parts of Bulgaria.

Ten thousand peasants are said to have surrounded Plevna, whither the new Government has sent fresh troops.

There has been fighting in the Radomir district between the Government troops and a force of 7,000 peasants, raised by the former President of the Sobranje, M. Boteff, and the ex-Minister, M. Athanasoff.

M. Stambulisky, the ex-Premier, is said to be at Dolakovo, preparing to march on Sofia, with detachments of the Agrarian Guard and a force of 20,000 peasants.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 13.—The Bulgarian Legation announces the receipt of a telegram from the Bulgarian Minister in Prague stating that the people of Bulgaria, "not recognising the new illegal Government, have isolated Sofia from the rest of the country. A steadily-growing army of about 100,000 volunteers are guarding the frontiers and suburbs of Sofia and preparing to punish the usurpers."

(Reuter's Service)

Sofia, June 12.—The Revolutionary Government has issued a manifesto declaring its determination loyally to fulfil the Treaty of Neuilly and affirming that Bulgaria is opposed to any kind of warlike adventure.

Negotiations Near Failure, But Saved At Last Minute

sages got through so that only the 'flash' telling of their release arrived in time for publication.

Meanwhile Gensburger and Elias, who were the first to reach the village, and the others who followed in chairs, were being photographed by the Pathe and International News Reel operators, and straggled into Tsaochuang one by one. First Gensburger arrived, followed by Elias. A half hour later Rowlatt of Tientsin, who led those in the chairs arrived, followed at brief intervals by the others.

As soon as they had dinner and enjoyed the first real baths they had had in over a month the captives were all put on board special cars which the Tientsin-Pukow line had waiting at Tsaochuang for three weeks and a special train for Shanghai ordered by Mr. Sun, Managing Director of the line, Mr. C. C. Shu of the Traffic Department of the railroad, who has been at Tsaochuang for a month looking after railway affairs in connection with the trainwreck and capture, escorted the captives to Shanghai.

Chinese Captives To Be Released In Few Days, Is Word

Although three Chinese captives were released with the foreigners through the work of Mr. Roy Anderson there are still about forty Chinese held captive. It is expected, however, that they will be released within a few days as Mr. Roy Anderson left for Peking as soon as the foreigners were released to see what could be done for the Chinese.

Representatives of the Chinese Chambers of Commerce, who signed the agreement releasing the foreigners, as witnesses, are also negotiating with the bandits for the release of the Chinese. It is probable that a ransom will have to be paid as the bandits see no other value in the Chinese. With the foreigners money was not the primary object, but with the Chinese it is said to be the chief consideration.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, June 12.—Major M. Garibaldi, an Italian manufacturer, resident in Tientsin, was captured near Tsingtao, presumably by bandits, but was released today through the efforts of the British and American Consuls.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 12.—The Diplomatic Corps held two meetings yesterday and two today.

It is understood that the Ministers formed two committees recently in connection with Lincheng, one consisting of the British, American, French and Italian Ministers to discuss indemnities and the other consisting of the same four and the Belgian, Dutch and Japanese Ministers to discuss the protection of foreigners and railways.

It is understood that the Ministers today decided to send in another Note demanding the speedy release of the captives and requesting a reply with regard to the suggested military commission for the protection of the main trunk lines.

(Reuter's Service)

Ottawa, May 14.—The Dominion Government, it was learned today, has made representations to the Government of China regarding the capture and ill-treatment of Dr. A. M. Lowe of Vancouver, by bandits in North China recently.

Rotarians Will Welcome Captives

Shanghai Rotarians are looking forward most expectantly to today's weekly tiffin meeting at the Union Club, for it is intended that on this occasion a welcome back to the fold will be given to Mr. J. B. Powell and Mr. Lee Solomon who have been absent from Rotary gatherings for the past six weeks which they have spent in the Shantung mountains in the hands of the outlaws.

Details of the program in honor of the two from Shantung have not been disclosed, but on the occasion Judge Peter Grain of the British Supreme Court will be a guest and will deliver an address.

M. P.'s Propose Council Of Twelve To Supplant Li

Peking, June 12.—Anticipating an abrupt termination of President Li Yuan-hung's term of office, owing to the increasing pressure being brought by the Chihli militarists to bear upon him, a section of the legislators has proposed the organisation of a Council of twelve for the administration of the Central Government.

It is suggested that the Chairman of the Council to be elected by its members will function as the Chief Executive pro tem., pending the election of a formal President by Parliament.

The following have been proposed by the Parliamentarians to constitute the Council:—

Dr. Sun Yat-sen
President Li Yuan-hung
General Tuan Chi-jui
General Lu Yung-hsiang
General Tsao Kun
General Chi Shih-yuan
General Feng Yu-hsiang
General Chang Tso-lin
General Tang Chi-yao
Mr. Tsen Chun-hsun
Mr. Tsai Yuan-pei
Mr. Tsang Tai-yen

The legislators claim that the formation of the Council will immediately bring about national reunification. The many perplexing political issues, especially the controversy regarding the priority of Constitution drafting to the Presidential election, they assert, also may be easily settled.

NOTIFICATION No. 335.

In connection with the bandit outrage caused to our Express Train between stations Lincheng and Shakou on 6th May last debris of sundry articles which were brought by passengers but left behind in the cars or on the track were picked together by the Railway staff, loaded in cars and conveyed to Tientsin. After allotting the things with numbers they were placed under the care of officers who have been appointed to keep safe custody of the same. Up to the present many of the articles have been identified at the Administration by their owners. In addition to having posted lists of particulars at all our stations showing the various articles that have and have not been recognized whereby giving the names of persons and dates on which they called for the things, we hereby advertise in papers to invite identification of the remaining articles. For any information in this respect please approach our Traffic Department or Stations along the Railway line.

Notice is hereby given to the residents at the French Concession that the following Regulations regarding the removal of house refuse and garbage will come into force from the 1st July 1922.

2.—Residents shall have in their houses or outhouses receptacles fitted with cover & handle, in which garbage and refuse shall be deposited during the day.

Receptacles for this purpose may be had on application to the Public Works Department at the cost of $4.00.

3.—The Municipal employees in charge of collecting house refuse and garbage are forbidden to enter private properties, private roadways terraces. etc., Therefore, receptacles containing house refuse & garbage must be put out on the public roadway by residents every morning at the very moment the municipal cart passes.

4.—Receptacles will be emptied into the municipal cart by the municipal employees.

5.—It is forbidden to scatter house refuse & garbage on the public roadway on spare lots of ground, into drains, creeks etc.

6.—It is forbidden to place house refuse & garbage receptacles on the public roadway before the municipal cart passes or to leave the said receptacles on the public roadway after the municipal cart has passed.

7.—The removal of house refuse and garbage by municipal carts takes place:—

From 1st April to 30th September between 6 & 8 a.m.
From 1st October to 31st March between 7 & 9 a.m.

Besides, residents are notified of the exact time the municipal carts are passing in front of their door by the ringing of a bell attached to each vehicle.

The Police are instructed to enforce the above regulation.

N. B.—House refuse consists of kitchen refuse, ashes and house sweepings only.

Garden sweepings, stable manure and debris are not considered as house refuse, the removal and transport of same must be done by the residents.

The French Municipal Council reminds the residents of the French Concession of the numerous inconveniences such as flies, etc. caused by house refuse and garbage being deposited on the public roadway.

Therefore residents are earnestly requested to comply with the above regulation.

By Order,
P. LEGENDRE,
Secretary.

Hongkong Denies Moller Charges

Hongkong, June 9.—We published yesterday, says the South China Morning Post, some remarkable charges made against the Hongkong Government by Mr. Eric Moller, President of Messrs. Moller and Co. at an extraordinary meeting at which the shareholders passed a resolution for the voluntary winding-up of the Company.

Mr. Moller alleged that the Company's misfortune was due to the Hongkong Government, which in March, 1918 commandeered three steamers, using them for purposes of profiteering; that when a test case was started the Colonial Secretary approached the owners for a stay of legal proceedings with a view to an amicable settlement and took advantage of the situation to make an effective counter move, in the shape of the Indemnity Ordinance 1922; also, that the Colony had endowed schools, built houses for officials and supported improvements from the proceeds.

In regard to the truth of those statements, the Colonial Secretary, Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, pointed out that in the first place the requisitions had been made not by the Hongkong Government, but by the Imperial Government. The Hongkong Government only acted as agents.

The conditions were exactly the same as those laid down for the Indo-China Steam Navigation vessels and others. They came under a Committee appointed by the Shipping Controller at Home. The rates, and so forth, were arranged at Home by the Shipping Controller and the Admiralty, and the actual requisition was carried out by the Naval Commodore at Hongkong.

The vessels were used in the best interests of the country and there was absolutely no question of profiteering. The statement that the Colonial Secretary had obtained a stay of legal proceedings and that the Government had then taken refuge behind the Ordinance was quite untrue.

Another false statement was that the money had been used to endow schools etc. As a matter of fact the money had been kept quite separate and was now put down as one of the Colony's liabilities.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Warning About Nerve Strain

Dear Sir,

During the whole of the war I was chief engineer on a coasting steamer, and the ever-present danger of floating mines made it a nerve-racking job. I lost two brothers in the war, and when, three years ago, I had another severe shock by the sudden death of my mother, I suffered a complete nervous breakdown.

My nerves became so bad that I could get no rest whatever. I was so weak and run down that I was afraid sometimes to cross the road, and eventually became in such a state that I dared not go out. Indigestion attacked me, and the mere thought of food was nauseating. I tried all sorts of remedies and had doctor's medicine, but could get no permanent benefit.

Some time ago I read about Dr. Williams' pink pills, and I decided to try them. Now I can hardly express my feelings for the great good they have done me. Soon after commencing the pills I felt the benefit, and by the time I had taken five boxes, all signs of nervous trouble and indigestion had left me. I now feel like a new man, and strongly recommend any sufferer from nervous breakdown or stomach trouble to try Dr. Williams' pink pills—they are a boon to mankind.

I am, Yours faithfully,
William J. Tomlinson.
12, Cragg Street, Barrow-in-Furness.

Note: For the information of readers it may be mentioned that, throughout the Far East Dr. Williams' pink pills are sold in glass wax-sealed bottles, instead of in boxes, this being necessary for climatic reasons.

FLYOSAN

The Insecticide Act of 1910 requires that all statements placed on containers be true. There is no similar law governing statements made in advertisements. Be sure, therefore, in buying insecticides advertised as non-poisonous that the claim also appears on the container. FLYOSAN may be sprayed on the human body, or on animals or fowl or their food without fear of harmful results.

In order to secure from high authoritative and impartial sources a report on the harmlessness of FLYOSAN an analysis was made by Rickets & Co., Inc., the well known analytical chemists.

Their technical report concluded with the following statements:—

"AS AN INSECTICIDE ITS ACTIVITY HAS NOT BEEN OVER ESTIMATED BY THE MANUFACTURER. ITS INTERSECTICIDAL PROPERTIES ARE NOT BASED UPON ITS TOXICITY OR ITS VALUE AS A GERMICIDE".

"THE ACTION OF THIS LIQUID AND ITS VAPORS IS PURELY MECHANICAL".

A Stronger Note Sounded

AMERICANS ordinarily are accused by other nationals of coddling the Chinese, of being over-friendly, and thus not fair either to themselves or to other peoples. Perhaps the Chinese have come to think along the same lines. If so, it is only fair that the Chinese should be told that Americans are much the same as other peoples in their reactions. When they are imposed upon they become angry.

Further, it is natural to the Chinese and the Americans and all other peoples, particularly to resent criticisms from friends. You don't care what your enemy says; you are affected by what your friend says.

It will therefore be of interest to the people of China to know what American opinion is as to their manner of Government, and we venture the statement that this opinion is held by all foreigners.

It should be understood by the Chinese that the other peoples of the world are not unfriendly to them, but that it is expected of them that they will provide a government which will conform to agreements and treaties and see to it that the same are enforced. The nations are to some extent dependent upon one another. Some can exist without the others, but laws and treaties are devised for the protection of all.

The American Association of China and the American Chamber of Commerce yesterday issued a statement dealing with the situation which has arisen out here. This statement sets out that the American flag is being insulted, that gunboats are inadequate, that Chinese officials are violating treaties and refusing protection to foreigners, that travel between ports is unsafe and the dispatch of cargoes is prevented, while the traffic in opium is encouraged; that conditions are worse than at any time since the Boxer outbreak.

These two American organizations therefore appealed by cable to the American Secretary of State. They said in effect that an intolerable condition had been created by Washington's indecision and failure to act aggressively in the present crisis.

"American lives and liberty are being endangered and American prestige and business destroyed owing to the lack of strong action. We demand immediate protection for Americans in China and urge action along the following lines until a strong and satisfactory government is established.

"First: Suspension of all benefits accruing to China under the Washington Conference decisions; second, disarmament of troops, return to their homes, placing Chinese finances under foreign supervision; third, foreign guards to be placed along all lines of communication, both land and water; fourth, foreign garrisons to be placed at strategic points throughout China; fifth, suspension of the return of the Boxer Indemnity; sixth, cooperation with Great Britain in providing remedies as to present conditions.

"These recommendations meet the approval of substantial Chinese business and banking interests which deprecate the present chaotic conditions but will not act for fear of persecution at the hands of the present regime."

It is understood, we may add, that similar recommendations have been forwarded to other countries by their own nationals.

Modern Pewter From Chelsea

In a Chelsea studio in London, with three big windows overlooking the silvery Thames, Miss Alice Baker is to be found surrounded by witnesses as to her talent as a worker in pewter. Seated at a small table in a quaint high chair formed of a camel's saddle mounted on a carved wood stand, with a pair of stout white wash-leather gloves on her hands, she worked as she talked.

"I am very busy getting ready for an exhibition on Thursday, and after that there will be another," she explained, "so I think I will go on working, if you don't mind."

As she spoke she was drawing on a strip of pewter with a metal outliner, and when asked if she did not generally make a preliminary sketch of the design on paper she replied:

"No, I have got such a feeling for metal, you see. I can do things with my tools that I cannot do in black and white on paper. I use only the simplest tools, just a chaser and a modeler, and I have the pewter in sheets of different thicknesses and work it on leather for some things and on felt for others, and very often on stone when I want to get sharper effects. This strip that I am doing now is a band in an empire design for the edge of a bowl, and after it is done I just cut around the design with a pair of scissors.

PEWTER-BOUND BOWLS

These pewter-bound bowls are a specialty of Miss Baker's. They are in what at first sight looks like Ruskin pottery, but what is in reality painted wood-pulp rendered water-proof. They are in most wonderful colors with embossed rims of pewter in various designs. Many of the most charming of these designs are done from flowers.

"I just put the flowers in a vase on my table and draw them directly on the pewter," said Miss Baker. "I have been growing tulips for that purpose, because I use them a lot."

One bowl had a border of convolvulus and another of roses. In another of a lovely pale ultramarine color the pewter edge was in a design of daisies and the inside was painted with a sunrise effect. Many of the bowls have this broken color inside and divided, as it is, by the band of pewter on the edge from the plain color outside, the result is very lovely.

"These are what I call my 'sunrise' bowls," said Miss Baker. "I have different ideas in thought when painting them which I try to carry out. In that one I imagined faint white clouds on a pale blue sky with just a pinkish sunrise tint. Then I wanted a full sunlight effect so I did a beautiful yellow bowl. A big, yellow splash of sunlight such as you have in that bowl with deep orange inside and yellow outside does help to light up a room. I love color. I started as an artist, you know, before I did pewter and the color comes out in my bowls.

"The pewter has to be put on in small pieces around the edge of the bowl and I disguise the joints by the pattern. If the bowls get dull they can be polished with a clear furniture cream which keeps both the metal and the bowl in good condition. One of my most recent ideas is this pewter tripod stand to hold the bowls."

Nature has also been consulted for the design of seed pods of honesty seen on a tall, tapering, quadrangular pewter vase, and a similarly shaped vase was delightfully decorated with sprigs of fir and fir cones. But Miss Baker is always awake to the possibilities of fresh ideas in the way of pattern, and in some of her most recent pewter mirror frames and boxes the Egyptian note is sounded.

SEARCHING TRADITION

"I try to base all my designs on some good tradition," she said, "because I think patterns based on tradition have more value and interest. Recently I have had a great inspiration from the Egyptian discoveries. I have read a good deal about them and seen photographs of them, and I also go down to the British Museum and make drawings in the Egyptian section. The Egyptians were wonderful designers and they seem to have used quit a lot of metal work in zinc, silver and bronze."

A charming mirror hanging on the wall was pointed out, of which the pewter frame had incised panels top and bottom in an Egyptian figure design inset with scarabs.

"The old Egyptians worked with incision," explained Miss Baker. "All the work at the Museum is incised and I have seldom met embossed work except a bit here and there."

Several attractive boxes of pewter on wood were also done with Egyptian patterns and inset with scarabs. On being opened it was found that the inner side of the lid was in some cases pointed with a procession of quaint Egyptian figures in color.

"I also base designs," said Miss Baker, "on sketches I made in Italy. In Assissi there was very fine embossed tonework in the doorways of the house of Saint Francis of Assissi's father that I specially loved, as well as designs around the doors of the Duomo at Florence. I never like balanced designs on my things. If you study the pattern of grapes on the back of this hand mirror you will see that it is an uneven trail.

"I want presently to specialise in pewter picture frames with bits of color in them to harmonise with the picture. As soon as the exhibitions I have on hand are over I am going abroad to get more material in the way of ideas for designs, and I must do some painting, too, or I shall have nothing for the shows."

And here Miss Baker turned the subject of conversation from pewter to paintings of sunny Sicily which hung on the wall.

What Sort Of Example Are You Setting Your Children

BY J. J. MUNDY

Be careful of the promises you make to your children, and be careful of the promises you make to anyone.

But the child peculiarly needs truth and expects truth from the parent.

When he reaches the time when he feels that he cannot depend on what his father and mother tell him, he concludes that he cannot trust anyone.

The next deduction is that if others do not fulfill their promises, why should he.

The bad seed is sown and bears fruit.

Few parents realise that their children are second editions of themselves.

If there is quarreling and bickering in the home the children will grow up contentious members of society.

If fathers and mothers are short and surly, the children will be.

If high ideals prevail in the home and are talked by the parents the children will become imbued with high purpose and endeavor.

What sort of example are you setting your children?

Something To Think About

BY BRUNO LESSING

A newspaper dispatch from Philadelphia reads as follows:

"After he had pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today to driving an automobile while intoxicated, C. Haviland Scott, of Pitman, N. J., was sentenced to remain in the County Prison until he had read and studied Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. The Court will then dispose of the case."

Here is plenty of food for thought—a whole banquet in fact.

The hors-d'oeuvre, or appetiser, is a person who is fool enough to drive an automobile when he has been drinking at all, let alone when he is drunk. For a man to take his life into his hands and jeopardise the lives of others in such a reckless, idiotic fashion, is enough to shatter one's faith in evolution. No monkey was ever guilty of such asininity.

His honor, the Judge, comes on with the soup. What a wonderful sense of humor! A drunken man drives a car and is sentenced to boredom by being compelled to read Pilgrim's Progress.

Quite recently another drunken driver killed three people in this very same city of Philadelphia. He was sent to jail for six years. If this Pitman, N. J., driver had killed someone, the case would have gone to a higher court, and, in the present state of public feeling, he would have had a severe sentence for manslaughter.

What do you think of such a judge? Just an accident—nobody happened to come in the way of the drunken driver—and he gets a humorous punishment.

If you send people to jail for five years for driving an automobile while they are drunk, you will save human lives. If you joke with them until they have killed someone, you encourage them to keep up the practice.

We can only hope that when the prisoner has finished with Bunyan, the judge, realising his responsibility, will send him to jail for at least a year for having driven an automobile while drunk.

Bunyan comes on as entree or roast—depending upon how you are accustomed to eat.

What is the real value of Pilgrim's Progress? If you wish to know the fullest possibilities of the English language it is essential that you read it. The writing, the use of words and phrases that raise pictures before the mind, the atmosphere of sincerity and conviction, are all inimitable.

As for its teachings and its philosophy, you must remember that Bunyan believed that "he was a child of wrath, condemned from his birth, guilty by nature and justly predestined to destruction."

That sort of stuff belongs to the dead past. Only the ignorant believe today in a brimstone and sulphur hell. Brimstone and sulphur are quite expensive.

As long as nobody was killed, it may be—if you take the trouble to think about the folly of human beings, the responsibility of judges and study of Pilgrim's Progress—that this drunken driver did you a good turn.

Bits Of Natural Philosophy

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

"Water is practically colorless; so is ice. Then why is snow, which is water, white?

"What determines the shapes of frost markings on a window pane? I refer particularly to the beautiful ferns and foliage.

"Is there any substance, the weight of which is changed by a change of temperature? If there is I can make a perpetually running machine.—F. D. S., Coudersport, Pa."

I answer your last question first, because of its appendix. Weight, which is an effect of gravitation, is proportional to mass, which is the quantity of matter in a body. Weight can be changed by removing the body to different points on the earth, but mass is not affected by changing the location of a body or by altering its temperature, although if the temperature is increased the bulk of the body is usually expanded.

This expansion would relatively increase its buoyancy and decrease its weight if the body was immersed in water, but would not affect its weight in a vacuum. There is one way, however, in which mass appears to be changeable. When a particle, such as a negative electron, moves with a speed comparable with the speed of light, its mass increases with increase of speed.

With reference to your statement that with a substance whose weight was changed by temperature you could make a "perpetually running" machine, let me tell you that this, if done, would not, as you apparently suppose it would, be a solution of the problem of "perpetual motion." To make a perpetual motion machine within the scientific definition of such a thing, you must avoid utilising a mere natural force. Otherwise anybody can make a perpetual motion machine. A boy's water-mill would be one. The problem is to make a machine which will give out more energy than it takes in.

The whiteness of snow is due to its equal reflection of light of all kinds, i.e., of all the colors of the spectrum, which, when combined, make white. The snow is made up of small crystal particles, closely packed, and their facets being turned in all possible directions scatter the light in such a way that every color is represented in the combination.

You are mistaken in supposing water is without color. If you look through a sufficient thickness of water you will perceive that it has a distinct blue color. This is most beautifully shown when the water is in the form of transparent ice. Climbers over the glaciers of the Alps frequently come upon truly magnificent displays of the azure hue exhibited by water in frozen masses.

It may be seen displayed at Niagara Falls when the great cataract is enshrined with ice. But as ice becomes opaque when melting by the formation of multitudes of minute air bubbles throughout its mass, it sometimes looks as white as snow, because, then, the light is reflected in innumerable directions from the miscroscopic bubbles, every color being represented as in reflection from snow.

The exquisite pictures drawn on window panes by frost are created out of atmospheric water by crystallising forces, similar to those which share snow crystals and snow flakes, the latter being simply combinations of crystals. Highly magnified snow flakes exhibit forms recalling some of those characteristic of the frost figures on the window panes. But the latter having a firm support, and being able to grow during much longer periods of time than the falling flakes, cover an amount of surface and attain a delicacy of detail, with which the flakes can rarely compete.

The special and, very characteristic, forms that you mention —fern-like and foliage-like figures —will be seen by careful inspection to be built up by the repetition and linking together of a few fundamental shapes, duplicates of which on a smaller scale can be found in magnified snow crystals and snow flakes. Even skeleton outlines of the fern-leaf figures of the window-frost may be seen by microscopic examination of a complicated snow flake.

This comparison, however, is difficult on account of the rapid melting of the flakes. But the result is what should be expected, since the same crystalline types must underlie both the snow flakes and the frost forms, the common element concerned being water.

The cause of the similarity to vegetable shapes and growths is merely a subject of conjecture, though it is too common and too characteristic to be regarded as mere coincidence. As you must often have noticed, the resemblances are so marvellus that the inadmissible idea of imitation can hardly be kept out of the mind.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

"There have been some social changes here of late, in Pinkneyville"—
I quote Pickering Doolittle, who is old, but active still;
"Adam Whipple used to putter at the odd jobs here and there,
And his fambly hardly ever got a look-in anywhere;
They were always havin' trouble, it appeared, to make ends meet,
But today folks run to see 'em when they're ridin' through the street.

"Butchers used to hate to trust 'em; grocers felt about the same;
Churches always had to help 'em when the frequent babies came,
And they kept on slippin' downward—worse and worse year after year;
Just a hand-to-mouth existence, with the wind-up always near;
But one mornin' something happened that upset all Pinkneyville,
And now Adam Whipple's livin' in the best house on the hill.

"Seems that one of Adam's daughters left about a year ago,
Women smiled, and spoke in whispers—usual kind of talk, you know;
Well, she's actin' in the movies, and from stories that we hear
She must get at least a million—mebby twice that much—a year;
There have been some social changes in this good, old, proper town,
And today the Whipple fambly's at the top, and lookin' down."

Bobbie And His Pa

BY WM. F. KIRK

Well, Bobbie, sed Ma, soon the buttiful Summer will be here, Ma sed, & you can rome in the wildwood, Ma sed, & pick me sum of Sprigg's farest flours.

I aint going to pick flours no moar, I sed, that is O. K. for a Sissy, I sed, but I am a big boy now & will not pick no flours, I sed.

Dear me, sed Ma, wen did you get so dig?

Feel of my mussel, I sed. Do you think it is mans work for anybody with a arm like mine, I sed, to pick flours?

Ma laffed. Why, you littel weezil, sed Ma, you only think you have mussel. You are sumthing like yure noabel father in that respeck, sed Ma.

Do you meen to inner-ply that I have no pour in my good rite arm? sed Pa.

Yes, you are strong enuff, sed Ma, but both you & Bobbie thinks you are stronger than what you reely are, sed Ma. My deer old father, wen he was young, cud have broaken eether one of you in two (2) sed Ma. My father was reely strong, sed Ma.

Yore old gent was stronger than horse-reddish, sed Pa. There wasent anything week about him, eeven his breth, sed Pa. It was vary high proof moast of the time sed pa. Those good old high proof brths is moastly a thing of the past, tho, sed Pa.

Thank hevings for that, sed Ma. The smell of the clove has vanished from the land, sed Ma. But reely, Ma sed, my father was a vary strong man. Strong tho he was, tho, sed Ma, he shed teers wen I left hoam to be yure littel wife, sed Ma to Pa.

Ha, Ha, sed Pa, that is a rich one.

What do you meen? sed Ma kind of hard.

I was laffing to think of yure old gent shedding teers wen you married me, sed Pa. Why, sed Pa, he laffed like a laffing hyeeny wen you got in the carridge to drive away with me, Pa sed.

He must of been laffing at you, then, sed Ma.

Cut it out you two (2) I sed. I am trying to reed my Bottiny lesson.

Bobbie is too young to be studdying Bott'ny, sed Pa.

Maybe, I sed, but you & Ma are too old to be all the time argew-ing with eech other, also, too, I sed.

Bobbie is rite, the littel preshus, sed Ma, but I git so aggervaited every time I heer you say sumthing slir-ring about my deer old daddie, sed Ma. He always adder-mired you & spoak well of you, sed Ma. Why cant you speek well of him?

Did he reely adder-mire me? sed Pa. Well, well, sed Pa, yure old gent was a pritty fine old man after all, sed Pa. He had many good points, that old sport, sed Pa.

He was no old sport, sed Ma. How dare you?

Poor Pa, he can't say nothing the rite way, wen I grow up I will be a better talker than Pa, I will hand out a swell Lin of Gabb.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.
FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paragoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. STEVE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Soviet Wants Consulate Here

Peking, June 12.—The Soviet Mission, in a note to the Waichiaopu, demands permission for the appointment of "representatives" in Tientsin, Shanghai and Chefoo to exercise Consular authorities over the Russian residents in these ports.

In reply, the Waichiaopu states that with the exception of Chefoo, no Soviet representatives shall be appointed to ports in China, pending the convening of the Sino-Russian Conference.

Weather Report

June 12.—High pressures over the Bonin. The depression is crossing Korea ENE ward. Two small low centers; one by NEastern Formosa: the other over the northern China Sea. Easterly winds over our coasts. Variable breezes elsewhere. Cloudy and warm weather in China. Rainy at Hongkong.

June 13.—Overcast and mild weather. The pressure is normal. Easterly breezes.
